Built for the colleges that look after their people.

If reaching students clearly and keeping them safe both matter to you, NaachiChat was made for your campus.

Colleges that hate missed announcements

For institutions that struggle to get information to students, where notices, deadlines and opportunities slip past the ones who needed them most.

Colleges that guard student details

For teams who care about student welfare and do not want personal numbers exposed to make everyday campus communication work.

Colleges that take student safety seriously

For campuses that want students to report a problem the moment they see it, inside a conversation or anywhere on campus, and be heard in real time.

Colleges that value verified academics

For institutions who want staff and professors verified and tied to their department, so last-mile communication with students is always genuine.

WHAT WE OFFER

One space that does the whole job for a campus.

Staff run it from a dashboard. Students get a calm inbox they control. Here is what your college gets on day one.

Bulk announcements

Exams, placements, fee reminders and campus news reach the right groups in one send.

Real-time reporting

Students flag something wrong in a chat or on campus the moment it happens, and it reaches you.

Paid student ambassador internship

A rolling, paid internship with a stipend for students at partnering colleges and universities.

Verified staff by department

Every professor and staff member gets a verified account tied to their department, with no phone number shared.

Training and certification, included

Ethics and safety, for students and staff

A specialised self-paced module in ethics and safety, with certification on completion.

Using the app, for staff and admins

A self-paced training module for staff and admins, with a live demo and campus orientation.

A dashboard that carries the heavy work

Upload large student data in the dashboard, not on a phone. Review every student report in one place, build unlimited departments with your own hierarchy, and broadcast to any group you create.
